

How much medical expenses will it cost?

After years of clinical practice, the efficacy of natural comprehensive therapies has been greatly improved. We use a variety of the most effective medications and methods in the medical systems to ensure that the condition is stabilized as soon as possible.

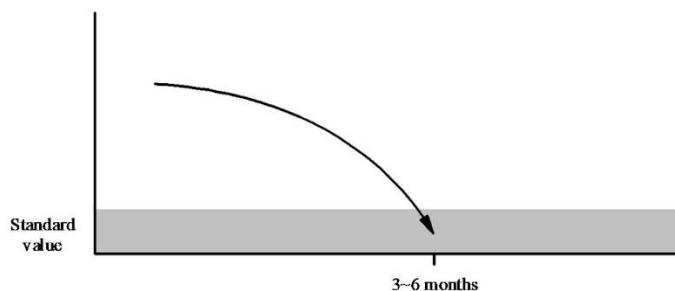

The patient's monthly medical expenses range from approximately RM500 to RM3,000, depending on the condition and medications used. After the condition stabilizes and improves, the dosage of the medications can be gradually reduced.

How long will the patient need treatment?

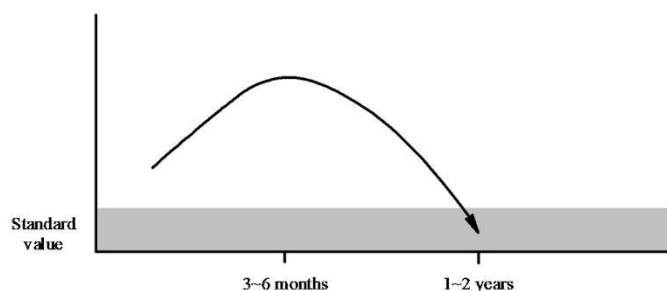

A course of treatment is 3 months. A few patients will recover within 3~6 months, but most require 1~2 years or even longer treatment. Terminal cancer patients require more than 2 years of gradual conditioning and treatment.

Based on previous therapies and data research, the recovery process of cancer patients is generally divided into three types:

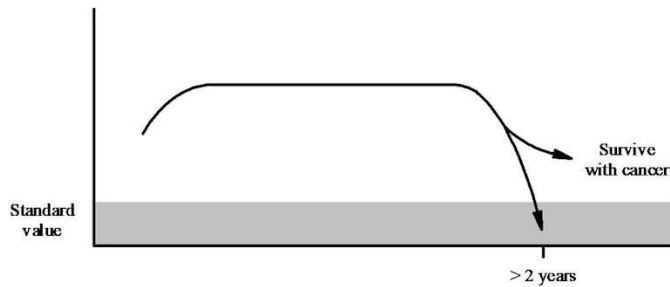

1. Tumors disappear more quickly (~5%)

2. Proliferate first and then subside (~85%)

3. Relatively stable (~10%)

The above recovery types show that tumor markers and tumor volume are likely to continue to increase when most patients begin treatment. These changes cannot be used as a criterion for the efficacy of treatment. After chemotherapy, the index is suppressed immediately, but this does not mean that the treatment is particularly effective, because the index rises again afterward, and there are many examples of cancer cells continuing to proliferate and spread.

Note:

The above charts of recovery types is based on old methods of fighting cancer. Now with more advanced and effective treatments, many patients with advanced cancer can return to a normal lifestyle within 3 months. It may not be possible to completely eliminate cancer cells in 3 months, but it will not cause any serious problem or concern. Of course, during this period, patients will repeatedly experience various healing reactions, especially those who have undergone chemotherapy, radiotherapy and surgery, so they must be mentally prepared.

After the widespread spread of COVID-19, we have stopped seeing patients, but we have put our years of anti-cancer experience online to share with you, including the medications needed, where to buy them and the treatment methods. You can read in detail treat it yourself. Many seriously ill terminal patients recovered in this way. Please refer directly to "Most effective cancer treatment method".
